THE MONEY RAISED.

SPRINGFIELD DOES HER-SELF PROUD.

THE ROAD WILL BE BUILT.

Her Citizens Secure the $20,000 for Terminal Facilities—They Are Happy.

The citizens of Springfield are jubilant over the success that has at last crowned their efforts to secure the building of the Springfield, Sedalia, Marshall and Northern. Every requirement exacted from them by the projectors of the road has been met and all that remains is for the contractors to commence their work at once.

A letter was received this morning by President O. A. Crandall from Gen. George A. C. Wooley, secretary of the road, which stated that the $20,000 asked by the company to secure the terminal facilities and for other expenses in building the line through Springfield proper had been fully raised. It will be a matter of only a day or two until all the right of way will be obtained.

The Springfield Leader, speaking editorially of the matter under the heading, "Glory, Glory Hallelujah!" has the following:

"The people of Springfield have reason to rejoice. A city of its size that can raise $120,000 as a subscription to a railroad shows a public spirit and an enterprise that belongs to that class of people who know no such word as fail.

"The feasibility of building a railroad from this city north has been demonstrated and our people have shown their faith by work. The success of this enterprise means that Springfield will be a city of 50,000 people within the next three years and with a future that knows no bounds.

"To the liberal spirits who have worked with such energy and devotion, all praise is due. While others doubted they worked. While others paused they went on. Undaunted by the refusal of some to aid, they appealed to the masses of the people and they responded liberally.

The far reaching effects of the building of this road cannot be estimated. One road begets another, and with the assurance that the Springfield and Northern will be built other roads will come bringing untold wealth.

"All hail to the men who have fought nobly and carried this measure to success."

TO REBUILD THE SYSTEM.

The Telephone Line to be Changed at a Cost of About $10,000.

A force of nine men under the foremanship of T. H. Torpay arrived in the city this morning and will at once commence replacing the Missouri and Kansas Telephone company's system in this city with entirely new material. The reconstruction will be under the general direction of Fred W. Mackey, local manager of the company in this city.

It is thought that the change will require about four months' labor. Mr. Mackey stated that the cost would reach about $10,000. The ground connections will be replaced by metallic circuits, and in this way all outside disturbances from street car and electric lines will be done away with. The system will be made much superior to its present state.

The extension to Clinton and Nevada will be begun as soon as the preliminaries are settled.

Is Something of a Farmer.

It is seldom in the rush and hurry of modern business life that men find their paths leading through such pleasant fields as now command the attention of Hon. J. H. Bothwell. He is a gentleman to whom the beauty and quietness of country life are particularly attractive and he now has an unbounded opportunity for gratifying his bucolic tastes. Col. Green, of New Jersey, the millionaire manufacturer of the "August Flower" remedy, has a farm of 1,100 acres in Bates county, between Butler and Rich Hill, on the line of the Missouri Pacific railways. The land was once the bottom of a lake and is marvelously productive. Col. Green has placed this farm under the management of Mr. Bothwell with instructions to expend any amount of money in its improvement that he may see fit. The latter has turned farmer for a season and will place 400 acres of corn alone in cultivation this spring. Owing to the annual overflows of the Miami and Maries des Cygnes river which form two boundaries of the land, it has been found necessary to build at a great cost a dyke three miles long.

Mr. Bothwell has been enjoying the exercise of felling large trees with an axe and lays claim to great distinction in this respect.

LOST HIS POCKETBOOK.

A Much Alarmed Traveler at the Depot—Dropped $155 on a Coach Seat.

Shortly after the train came in from the south this morning, a red-headed man with his vest unbuttoned and his hair on end was seen to dance a jig on the platform and then collapse and rush for a policeman.

Officer John R. Baldwin was standing with his blue suit and brass buttons shining in the morning sun and the stranger made haste to distractly unbutton himself of the fact that he had lost his pocketbook containing $155. He had last seen the pocketbook between Clinton and Sedalia, having boarded the train at the former place. It had been carried in his hip pocket. Officer Baldwin at once surmised that it had slipped from the man's pocket to the seat. Securing a carriage they at once went in search of Conductor George W. Ferrell who was in charge of the train and he at once informed them that he had found the money and had deposited it at the First National bank, there being no papers of identification in the pocketbook. The stranger gave his name as Chas. Watts, of Stonesburg, Pa., and after the money had been counted out to him a crisp $5 was placed in the hands of Officer Baldwin for his efficiency. All that George got was the interest on the money.

Destructive Storms.

The cyclones, in obedience to the law that governs them, says the Kansas City Star, are advancing northward. The first heard of this season were in Louisiana and Southern Mississippi; the last was most destructive in Southern Kentucky, with parallel winds in Indiana. In their natural and ordinary course these convulsions of nature should be expected in Missouri in May. While nothing can be done in the way of prevention, and there is not much to say in the line of consolation, it may be observed that more is known about cyclones than formerly; that their season and direction of their approach has been ascertained and also that they give warning of their coming. There is nothing to do but to keep an eye on the afternoon and evening of these spring days, and to have your property insured with S. E. Murray, 410 Ohio street.

A Small Fire.

A house belonging to John Clare and occupied by Albert Smith and family, at the corner of Washington and Jefferson, was the scene of a small fire this morning, to which both companies responded. The shingles on the roof had ignited from a spark from the chimney. The damage done was trivial, amounting to about $5.

The official returns from the democratic primary election show the nomination of Driskell by the following vote:

Wants Buzzard Pardoned.

HARRISBURG, PA., March 30.—The governor to-day issued the death warrant of Pietro Bucleri, who is to be executed June 1. The board of pardons recommends the pardon of the noted outlaw Abe Buzzard and James S. Dungan, the wrecker of the American bank.

Real Estate Going Up.

The real estate firms are holding their prices up for spring, and some good property has been sold at quite an advance. The firm of Woodfin & Thatcher say they will not advance the prices for about thirty days on any of their properties. Parties who wish good properties or houses in any part of the city, had better call on them. They write fire insurance, best companies, loan money, buy and sell real estate.—314 Ohio street.

FOOLISH ALEXANDER.

He Gets In the Clutches of the Law at Nevada While Coming North.

Chief of Police John DeLong was notified yesterday by Sheriff A. M. Scrogghem, of Vernon county, that he had arrested at Nevada two men "deadheading" their way on M., K. & T. passenger train No. 4, bound north, one of whom was supposed to be William B. Alexander, who is wanted in Sedalia for stealing $150 from his room mate. The sheriff describes the man as red-headed and wearing glasses.

Chief of Police DeLong is not inclined to think the right man is in custody. Alexander is too shrewd to come toward Sedalia. The sheriff has been instructed to send a minute description and if it agrees with that of Alexander Chief of Police DeLong will go to Nevada after the prisoner.

Since the above was written, a telegram has been received by Chief of Police DeLong from the sheriff at Nevada, which says that the identification is complete. Chief of Police DeLong will leave for that city this evening and return with Alexander to Sedalia to-morrow.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

Frank McNellis, an Aged Gentleman, Found Dying by His Sister.

Frank McNellis, aged about 75 and who has been retired from business a number of years, died suddenly this morning at 10 o'clock at the residence of his brother-in-law, Prof. Con. McHugh, No. 518 East Third street.

Mr. McNellis arose as usual this morning, ate a hearty breakfast and appeared to be quite well. Mrs. McHugh went to church and upon her return was surprised to find him reclining upon a sofa in an exhausted condition. She immediately ran to his assistance, but he had passed beyond aid and died in a short time. Dr. M. T. Collins, who was summoned, stated that the cause of death was probably apoplexy.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

A Splendid Residence.

J. B. Quigley, president of the Sedalia Waterworks company and one of Sedalia's foremost business men, has begun the erection of a splendid private residence at the southwest corner of Broadway and Barrett avenue. The structure will cost between fifteen and twenty thousand dollars and will be one of the most artistic and imposing in the city.

RELIABLE AND NEWSY!

THE DAILY DEMOCRAT.

The president is appointing new postmasters in Kansas at a rate that warms the hearts of many of "the boys" who were disconsolate mavericks last fall.

PROF. DRISKELL is not only a most excellent gentleman of culture and education, but he is an experienced teacher as well, and will make an efficient officer.

It is to be hoped that the report crediting President Cleveland with the intention of calling an extra session of congress for the purpose of revising our tariff is true.

The present campaign for city offices is being made quietly and decently, so far as the DEMOCRAT knows, by all of the candidates. This is greatly to the credit of the candidates.

KEEP IT before the people that there are miles and miles of streets in Sedalia that ought to be macadamized this summer. Gentlemen, let's have a forward movement all along the line.

CLEVELAND cannot please everybody in the distribution of federal offices, but he can fill a "long felt want" by hurrying up tariff reform legislation. All parties desire prompt action on this measure.

THESE are the days of changes and rumors of changes in railroad circles, but the most interesting announcement for Sedalians will be the inauguration of the track laying on the north and south railroad.

THE Lexington News this week enters upon its fifth year and celebrates the event by issuing an unusually interesting edition printed on pink paper. The News is an excellent paper and has had a remarkably successful career.

It is reported that sixty trunks containing the wardrobe of a ballet troupe which is to play at the World's fair have been detained at the New York custom house. This announcement will be a death blow to this show. Who wants to see a ballet which takes sixty trunks full of clothes to cover it?—Tribune.

Not a bit of it. It will be the making of the show. Just think what a rush there will be to secure seats for a ballet by a troupe that has been deprived of sixty trunks full of wardrobe.

THE convention of the national association of railway surgeons, which is to open in Omaha on May 31, says the Jefferson City Tribune, will be one of the most important and interesting meetings of its kind ever held in this country, more than 1000 surgeons, many of them eminent in their profession, having already signified their intention to be present. The railroad employees will be particularly interested in it because some subjects of special concern to themselves will be discussed. It often lies with the railroad surgeon to determine questions of much importance to employees who have been injured while engaged in the performance of their duty and who seek to recover from their employers for injuries sustained. Some of the subjects to be discussed at the coming meeting will touch this relation of the surgeon to the victim of railroad accidents.

THE MONEY RAISED.

The DEMOCRAT is glad to learn that Springfield has raised the money necessary to commence work on the Springfield, Sedalia, Marshall & Northern railway, and the enterprise may now be considered as on its feet.

The advantage this road will be to Sedalia cannot be over-estimated. A direct road north and south has long been the dream of the Sedalia business man.

It means additional transportation facilities so necessary in order to make this city a manufacturing center.

It means another line, practically, to Chicago and the north.

It means another line to deep water on the gulf.

It means closer connections with the prosperous and growing communities of our own state, and if Sedalia continues to show the enterprise, energy and public spirit that now characterizes her people, it means an era of prosperity that will in a few years make this a city of fifty thousand inhabitants.

With this increased growth and prosperity and this increased railway facilities, Sedalia will be the capital of Missouri long before many of her active citizens become old men or retire from business.

NO SURRENDER.

The DEMOCRAT is glad to see that the democratic papers of Missouri, as a rule, remain staunch advocates of free coinage, and that neither the blandishments of Wall street nor regard for Mr. Cleveland has made them recant the doctrine they have preached so long.

These Missouri papers in reaffirming the doctrine of bi-metalism but echo the sentiments of the voters of this state, and it will be unfortunate for any representative of this state to allow the "still small voice" of the eastern financier to cause him to forget the stern command of the great mass of voters who have time and again registered at the ballot box their approval of free coinage.

There is no public man in Missouri who is strong enough or great enough to over-ride the wishes of his constituents and misrepresent them on this question without paying for his treachery with his political life.

The St. Joseph Gazette, one of the most influential journals in the west, has the following wise and conservative editorial reference to this matter:

"The discussion of silver coinage and the repeal of the Sherman act continues, and the telegraph announces that a good many western statesmen are experiencing a change of heart on the subject. It has even been announced that when congress assembles the Sherman act will be repealed, pell mell, without any provision being made for the resumption of even limited silver coinage. A few days ago the Kansas City Times' Washington correspondent delighted the readers of that interesting periodical with the announcement that enough western members had changed their views on the subject to insure the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law early in the approaching session. If this prediction should be fulfilled, there would undoubtedly ensue an appalling mortality among western representatives. Statesmen may be carried off their feet by the babble so prevalent at Washington, but the people of the west have not changed their views on this subject, and are not likely to. The western congressman who drops out of line and mistakes suggestions from eastern financiers for the voice of his constituents, will be decapitated at the next election. Ninety per cent of the democrats of Missouri are opposed to the unconditional demonetization of the white metal. The effort of Wall street to inculcate the belief that recent derangements of the money market are attributable to the extensive use of silver money in this country will deceive nobody. The use of this scare-crow may account for the change of base made by the Kansas City Times and may induce a few western congressmen to commit political suicide, but the western masses have no share in the delusion. Before the presidential election the democrats of the west were told that the tariff was the paramount issue and must be first disposed of. The question of silver coinage was relegated to the rear. Now let it stay there. If the quacks and tinkers who substituted the Sherman act for the Bland law are tired of the experiment and want to go back to the limited coinage of silver until such time as the larger question of free coinage may be fought out at the polls, all well and good. Indeed, this would probably be accepted as a compromise by even the most ardent advocates of the unlimited coinage of silver. But the friends of the white metal are not ready to make an unconditional surrender, nor are the people who believe in the money of the constitution in a mood to be trifled with. If the east has its peculiar views, dictated by mingled provincialism and self interest, the west has convictions born of larger knowledge and enforced by pressing necessities. In the present juncture it will be the part of wisdom for western congressmen to keep their hands on the pulse of their constituencies. They will find that the atmosphere of the national capital has little effect upon the western political barometer. It is but a short step from Capitol Hill to Gotham—a longer one to the Mississippi valley. Before the end is reached the silver question may impose a large amount of labor upon the writers of political obituaries and epitaphs."

A GOOD story is told upon a certain close-fisted general passenger agent of a railroad which runs through Missouri. It has been customary for newspapers to run the "time card" and other advertising for the railroad and to receive mileage in payment. This particular passenger agent concluded that the newspaper "boys" were running around too much, and in place of the mileage books formerly issued in payment for advertising he offered "trip passes." Most of the papers along the line of the road promptly refused to accept the advertising on those terms, but in many cases continued to run the "time card."

One Missouri newspaper man dropped the card from his paper and the passenger agent wrote to the ticket agent in his town to endeavor to get the card "run as a matter of news." The newspaper man was equal to the emergency and, when called upon by the representative of the road, assured him that he would be generous in dealing with the corporation which couldn't afford to pay for its advertising. Accordingly in the next issue of the paper was a brief note to the effect that the editor had one of the "time cards" posted up in his office, where it could be seen by any one who contemplated traveling.

The growth in the circulation of the DEMOCRAT has been continued until now this paper not only has a larger circulation in Sedalia than any of its contemporaries, but those who are in a position to know assure us that the DEMOCRAT goes into more Sedalia homes than any other Sedalia paper ever did.

AMUSEMENTS.

A COLD DAY

Coming

To the Opera house, Saturday, April 1, is without doubt one of the best farce comedies ever written—one continuous laugh two and one-half hours long—a whirlwind of merriment. "Cold Day" is full of lovely music and fun and has been played in all the principal cities of the Union in the seven years of its existence. Its musical selections are from Ermine, Spectre, Knight, Gondoliers, Pearl of Pekin and all the latest operas.

Rare in Missouri.

Mention was made in the last issue of a crane that had been brought to town that morning, says the Boonville Star. The bird was unknown in this section, but answered the description of a bittern more closely than anything else. It was captured on the Petite Saline creek, after being shot in the wing. The hunter brought the bird to town, and hoping to save it, cut off the injured wing close to the body.

He evidently forgot about the large artery and the bird was much weakened by loss of blood. Dr. R. S. Holman, who is something of a sportsman, thought it might be saved by amputating the stump. The loss of blood, however, had been too great. The specimen was a very fine one, standing at least three feet from head to the ground. The wings from tip to tip measured six feet and are very powerful. On top of the head was a top-not, consisting of two feathers almost a foot in length and very delicate, that could be raised at will. The legs were black and the feathers dark gray.

CORBETT-MITCHELL FIGHT.

The Crescent City Athletic Club Figuring for the Big Battle.

The Crescent City club of New Orleans has taken the first public step looking to bidding for the Mitchell-Corbett fight. At a meeting it was determined to have President Noel act as the representative of the club in the negotiations with Corbett. Noel will leave for Philadelphia and expects to be with Corbett by the end of the week. Ostensibly the president is vested with full power in the making of the match and size of the purse, but in fact the offer of the club will be limited to $35,000. Twenty-five thousand will be the first offer to be made, and if Corbett will not agree to fight for that sum the purse will be increased. Should he refuse to fight for $35,000 a percentage of the receipts will be offered him and an agreement required whereby the winner will take everything. The basis of percentage will very likely be 25 per cent. to the club out of the net earnings of the match. It has been definitely learned that Mitchell has agreed to the $25,000 limit or the percentage plan, either of which is to his satisfaction.

A NEW ROAD INTO ST. LOUIS.

Trains Will Soon be Running Over the Missouri, Kansas & Eastern.

The new Missouri, Kansas & Eastern railroad that will follow the Missouri river from St. Louis to Boonville, Mo., where it connects with the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, has been finished from St. Charles to the western terminus and will soon be in operation. The contractors began work to-day, says a St. Charles special to the Republic, on the road twelve miles north of town, which will end at the Bellefontaine bridge, now being built over the Missouri river by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy.

Arrangements have been made by the M., K. & E. Co. to have their trains go into St. Louis over the Wabash tracks until the bridge is completed. A regular passenger service on the road will probably be inaugurated in the course of a few weeks.

The "Twice-a-week" St. Louis Republic will be sent free for one year to any person sending, before April 1, 1893, a club of three new yearly subscribers, with three dollars to pay for the same. The Hoosiers Want the Best.

"The people of this vicinity insist on having Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and do not want any other," says John V. Bishop, Portland Mills, Indiana. That is right. They know it to be superior to any other for colds, and as a preventative and cure for croup, and why should they not insist upon having it? 50 cent bottles for sale by Aug. Fleichman, druggist.

Best in the State.

Colman's Rural World very appropriately says: "The Sedalia meeting will be the best in the state this year, opening larger stakes, having better track and finer accommodations." A. J. Blake, the able representative of that valuable paper, makes frequent visits to Sedalia and speaks intelligently upon the matter.

News About Different Roads, Employees.

W. T. Fisher, travelling auditor fast mail.

R. K. Walker, inspector of weights and measures on the M., K. & T., was in the city this morning on his

THE OFFICIALS TALK.

The M. K. & T. Party Interviewed In

St. Louis.—They Deny the Rumors.

President Rouse, of the Missouri,

Kansas and Texas, Second Vice President Purdy, Mr. T. N. Finny,

Gen. Supt. Allen and party arrived here last evening by a special train over the Missouri, Kansas and Eastern line and the Washab from St. Charles says the St. Louis Globe-

Democrat. The Missouri, Kansas and Texas officers have been making an extended tour of the system, and will leave this morning for the north over the St. Louis, Keokuk and Northwestern line. They were met at the Southern Hotel by First

Vice President Waldo, who will accompany them to-day. President

Rouse said that the St. Louis extension from Franklin to St. Charles would be opened for traffic in sixty days. The long winter had somewhat retarded extension work at the Missouri end of the system.

The Texas main line extension from Boggy Tank to Houston would be opened for business next week. As to the rumors sent out from Kansas

City, Sedalia and Parsons concerning factional disturbances, resignations, and so forth, President Rouse said emphatically that such rumors had no foundation whatever. Vice President Purdy had not resigned, and Mr. Underwood had not been appointed his successor. Vice President Waldo had not resigned, and the president had received no intimation that he would do so.

No reliance should be placed on any such statements.

Cost of Stopping a Locomotive.

By a series of calculations it has been demonstrated that it costs a railroad ten cents to stop a locomotive and four cents for each stop of a passenger car. It often happens that a passenger does not make any move to leave the train until the order is given to go ahead, and a train must be brought to a stop again to let the slow-going passenger off. This little incident costs the railroad sixteen or twenty cents, sometimes as much as the tardy passenger paid. This is one of the leaks a railroad company undertakes to guard against, and the number of coaches to a train is limited to save expense of stoppage, as well as to lessen the number of pounds of coal consumed and wear and tear of its running gear.

Hava Level Head.

Speaking of the appointment of J. J. Frey as superintendent of the Santa Fe system, John Jamison said to a Nevada Mail reporter: "He is the coolest and most evenly balanced railroad man I ever saw.

Throughout my long acquaintance with him I have never seen him rattled. Wrecks may be piled up around him in every direction, but they never excite him. He moves around as if nothing had happened and always whistles while he is getting things to rights."

L. N. Kintz, formerly of this city, but the past year filling the position of claim agent of the M., K. & T. in Texas, has resigned.

Kintz is a very capable gentleman, and he has many friends in this city and elsewhere who will be sorry to see him leave the service of the
